INFORMATIONAL BULLETIN NO. 122-17-DES

HOW TO OPEN A FIXED FOOD FACILITY IN RIVERSIDE COUNTY

A “food facility” includes restaurants, markets, bars, and any operation that stores, prepares, packages, serves, vends, or provides food for human consumption at the retail level.

If you are purchasing an EXISTING food facility:

1. Contact the local Department of Environmental Health (DEH) office and schedule an on-site inspection with an Environmental Health Specialist prior to the purchase. This will outline structural requirements necessary to obtain an Environmental Health permit.
NOTE: If the structural repairs are major or require Building and Safety approval, plan submittal will be required.
2. If you are making major modifications to an existing food facility contact the local DEH office Plan Check Environmental Health Specialist. Plan submittal will be required.

If you are planning to construct a NEW food facility:

1. Contact the planning/building department for permission to construct a restaurant or other food facility at your chosen location and identify other regulations (example: need for grease removal system, compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, etc.) which may affect your business.
2. Download the FOOD FACILITY PLAN CHECK GUIDE from the DEH website. Create a floor plan of your restaurant and include the requirements listed in the plan check guide, along with local building and safety code requirements. Along with your plans, submit manufacturer specification sheets for all proposed equipment, and a sample menu of all food and beverages to be sold.
3. Complete an application for review of plans and submit it to your local DEH office along with the applicable plan review fee. You can find the application on the DEH website. Submit three sets of plans to your local DEH office. Then submit the plans to the local building and safety department.
4. After obtaining approval from both departments, construction may begin. Make sure to schedule required inspections with your Environmental Health Specialist throughout the construction process.
5. The food facility permit application and applicable fee will be collected at the final construction inspection with DEH. Additionally, the facility owner must obtain approvals from all other agencies prior to opening for business.
